

Empowering Tribal Priests: A Heartwarming Initiative

Vikasa Tarangani, an NGO founded by Sri Chinna Jeeyar Swamiji, organized a 10-day training program for 40 tribal priests who selflessly care for small temples in their hamlets. abhaya Balachandra had the privilege of serving these priests personally, with the blessings of Sri Chinna Jeeyar Swamiji.

The training program revealed inspiring facts about these tribal priests:

- They are the care takers of the temples in their communities.
- They lead simple lives, free from bad habits.
- They contribute their own resources in temples
- They are eager to learn and grow.
- Despite lacking basic education, they are determined to serve their people.

The founder's experience was profoundly inspiring, and he is committed to supporting these priests in their selfless endeavors. By empowering them, the entire ecosystem will flourish. To foster their growth, the founder employed innovative methods, including motivation, singing, group discussions, storytelling, and communication skills. - Team abhaya
